

In-home hearing care.

Another way Dr. Linn puts your convenience first.

Dr. Gail Linn at Potomac Audiology is dedicated to helping people live happy, fulfilled and independent lives through better hearing. And to meet the needs of people who are unable to get to her office for the hearing care they need, she is proud to offer in-home hearing care. This is an excellent option if you don't want to drive to and from your hearing appointments or have a physical limitation resulting from an accident, operation or illness.

Dr. Linn's in-home hearing care capabilities are similar to what she offers at her office. The only difference is she uses portable testing and services equipment. When she arrives at your home or residence, she will conduct a comprehensive hearing test to determine the nature of your hearing loss and determine if you are a candidate for hearing aids. Dr. Linn will provide valuable information to you, your family and other caregivers so that you are completely confident and knowledgeable with your care.

You will learn about the different hearing aid styles and how they can improve your quality of life. Dr. Linn will recommend the best hearing aid based on your individual hearing needs and lifestyle. In addition to hearing exams, her at-home hearing capabilities include hearing aid fitting and programming with Real-Ear measurements and minor repairs and cleaning.

Dr. Linn fully understands the relationship between optimal hearing and the home environment. For example, the position of your television, stereo and telephone might need to be modified if furniture, plants or other decor are blocking their audio field. Dr. Linn will make these modifications for you as part of her in-home hearing care.

If you or a loved one is suffering from hearing loss and can't make it to Dr. Linn's office, call (240) 477-1010 and ask about in-home hearing care today!
